

Diskrete Mathematik

Prof. Dr. H. Harborth
h.harborth@tu-bs.de

Technische Universität Braunschweig

Universitätsplatz 2
Raum 402
38106 Braunschweig
Tel: +49-531-391-7515

Braunschweig, 10. Oktober 2017

Curriculum Vitae

Harborth, Heiko

Bienroder Weg 47, 38106 Braunschweig, Germany, Tel: +49-531-322213

born February 11, 1938 in Celle, Germany married since March 29, 1961 with Karin Harborth, born Reisener, two children widowed since December 9, 1980

married since June 28, 1985 with Bärbel Harborth, born Peter, three stepchildren

School education

Fall 1944	elementary school Rebberlah, district Celle
Easter 1951	Lower Saxon boarding-school Iburg, district Osnabrück, high-school (abridged)
Easter 1955	Lower Saxon boarding-school Wolfenbüttel, high-school (abridged)
Easter 1958	final high-school examination (Abitur)

Career

Easter 1958	study of mathematics and physics for high-school-teacher, TH Braunschweig
February 4, 1964	examination, TH Braunschweig
April 1, 1963 – March 31, 1964	student collaborator, TH Braunschweig
April 1, 1964 – May 31, 1964	collaborator (DFG), TH Braunschweig
June 1, 1964 – January 31, 1966	assistant, TH Braunschweig
December 1, 1965	dissertation, TH Braunschweig
February 1, 1966 – January 24, 1973	collaborator, TH Braunschweig
July 13, 1972	habilitation in mathematics, TH Braunschweig
January 25, 1973	university teacher, TU Braunschweig
April 22, 1975	extraordinary professor, TU Braunschweig
December 28, 1978	university professor, TU Braunschweig

- Member of
- 1) New York Academy of Sciences
 - 2) Braunschweigische Wissenschaftliche Gesellschaft
 - 3) The Institute of Combinatorics and its Applications
 - 4) Hereditarnia Club
 - 5) 13 mathematical societies
- Editorial board of
- 1) Mathematische Semesterberichte (1988–2001)
 - 2) Fibonacci Quarterly
 - 3) Integers: Electronic Journal of Combinatorial Number Theory
 - 4) Geombinatorics
- 218 mathematical research publications
328 talks (mathematical colloquia and conferences)
20 “doctor children”
- Honor
- 2007 — The Euler Medal of the Institute of Combinatorics and its Applications